OBITUARIES

Kenneth Eugene Boob

Kenneth Eugene Boob, a Philadelphia florist, died Sept. 19, 1996, of AIDS-related complications. He was 43.

Born in Lockhaven, Boob had lived in Howard, Hawaii and California, where he owned paint and wallpaper businesses.

He moved to Philadelphia

three years ago, and worked for Petal Touch Florists on Island Avenue.

He served in the Navy from 1971 to 1974.

He is survived by his mother, Helen Grove Boob of Howard; two brothers, Carl Boob of Haines City, Fla., and Gary Boob of Howard; and two sisters, Barbara Miller of Center Hall; and Bonnie Andrews of Lamar.

A memorial service was held Sept. 24.

Memorial contributions may be sent to Philly Paws, 722 Lewis Tower, 225 S. 15th St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19102.

Bill Dorsey

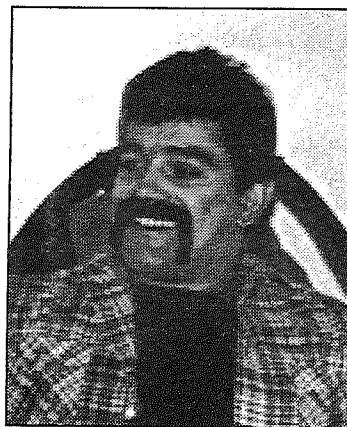

Bill Dorsey died at home Sept. 14, 1996, of AIDS-related complications. He was 39.

Born and raised in the Philadelphia area, Dorsey served in the Navy before moving in 1977 to San Diego, where he began a career in catering. In 1989, he returned to Philadelphia, continuing his work as a caterer and party planner until 1994, when illness made it necessary for him to stop working.

Dorsey is survived by his life partner, Tom Dettloff; his mother; and a sister, Debbie.

Cremation was held Sept. 17. ▼
